The Quilters Hall of Fame
 Garden Pathway Adopt-A-Brick

The Quilters Hall Fame renovated the Marie Webster House, a National Historic Landmark in Marion, Indiana, for their use. Marie Webster (1859-1956) was an innovative quilt designer, who wrote the first quilt book, Quilts: Their Story and How to Make Them. Her house has been named a “Landmark Site of Women’s History” by the National Park Service.

The brick pathway honoring loved ones, quilters and friends makes wandering through the garden a unique, memorable experience. The cost of adopting a brick is $50 for individuals and families; $100 for non-profit organizations; and $150 for businesses. Each engraved brick is 4” x 8” and features your own message. Proceeds from the adoption of bricks will be used to maintain the house and garden.

You are invited to support The Quilters Hall of Fame by dedicating a brick in honor of a special person in your life. Please use a separate form for each brick.
